Indian Ceremonial at Gallup

Visitors attending the annual Inter-Tribal Indian Ceremonial, which opened yesterday at Gallup, New Mexico, are witnessing such dances as this Hoop Dance by Taos Indians.

Each year more than 7,000 Indians of almost 40 tribes gather at Gallup for the Ceremonial which ends tomorrow.

For centuries the country surrounding Gallup has been inhabited by thousands of Indians of numerous tribes who evolved a plan of life which included communal government, simple agriculture, handicrafts and an intricate religion of nature worship full of weird rites, eerie chants, beautiful costumes and native dances.

During the three days of the Ceremonials the daily program includes a parade of thousands of Indians in their finest costumes thru streets followed by other hundreds on horseback and in wagons. Indian magic, weird rites, dances and chants feature the evening program.

Large bonfires and a brilliant harvest moon provide the illumination for what world travelers declare is the most colorful and impressive sight they have ever seen.

New Faces in 'Series' Film

"The rapidly growing series idea in motion pictures is offering one solution to Hollywood's perennial plea for new faces," says George Seltz, who directed the fourth of the "Judge Hardy" series, "Love Finds Andy Hardy," opening Saturday at the Plaza theatre in Hawthorne.

"In these pictures the cast 'nucleus' remains unchanged, but with new adventures encountered in each successive release, it is necessary to provide new talent.

"In both the Judge Hardy and Jones Family groups, the primary interest being in youthful members of the cast, additions to the cast are usually made from young players.

"In the latest Hardy Family production, 'Love Finds Andy Hardy,' the studio placed another of its younger players in an important role. Lana Turner, although twice-tried in films, is given her biggest part in the picture as Mickey Rooney's erratic and feather-brained girl friend.

"The other picture 'series' remain more or less steady regarding new players. But they are developing youngsters, attracting audience attention to boys and girls who may later develop into top-ranking players."

NEW 'JUDGE HARDY FAMILY' DRAMA

AIR THRILLER REVIVED AT THE LOMITA

"Hell's Angels," outstanding air thriller of all time, is showing at the Lomita theatre starting tonight. This great air epic, featuring Ben Lyon and Jean Harlow, which cost Howard Hughes many millions to produce, is being brought back for a revival to tremendous success by many theatres. On the same program, "Reckless Living," a comedy-drama, race track story of sudden wealth and romance. Also cartoon, news and Flash Gordon serial with Saturday night surprise as usual.

Opening Sunday is another giant program. The new screen sensation Danielle Darrieux, vivacious French girl in her first American production, "The Rage of Paris." She is supported by Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., Joe and Louis Hayward. The other feature is "Three Blind Mice" featuring Loretta Young, Joel McCrea and David Niven. On the same program, March of Time, cartoon and news.

Around Hollywood Film Lots

HOLLYWOOD (U.P.)—The descriptive phrase, "if she could only cook," has been applied to many a beautiful film queen, but many of them really can cook.

It is difficult to imagine a wispy dramatic star in the kitchen of her home surrounded by pots and pans and perhaps a smudge of flour on her nose. But it happens.

Hollywood is still trying to recover from the shock it received at the revelation that glamorous Marlene Dietrich is an accomplished cook. She often gets up small dinner parties and prepares the entire meal herself.

It sounds far-fetched, but Martha Raye is another ardent kitchen fan. Her cooking ability is so well known around Paramount studio that it gave the writers of her new comedy, "Give Me a Sailor," an idea for her screen character. Martha appears as an expert cook who tosses off roasts, pastries and soups with abandon.

Martha's culinary tastes run to simple but toothsome fare. She is a walking cookbook on hamburgers in every form, and she has a way of preparing veal cutlets with brown gravy that has her guests asking for more. A cheese souffle a la Raye is something, too.

Being a bride, Betty Grable has more or less acquired the technique of cooking through necessity. She tries to cook all the meals for Jackie Coogan, and "The Kid" will tell anyone that Betty really whips out a meal.

Florence George, young-blond opera singer from Chicago, carries her cooking to extreme lengths. She is an accomplished cake baker and habitually gives cakes to her friends, even bringing them on the set for the company to eat.

Gracie Allen may be world-famous as a "nut," but she has perfected quite an astounding virtuosity in the kitchen. George Burns likes nothing better than to sit down to one of Gracie's dinners, which usually features strips of beefsteak in a cream sauce. The Russians call it Beef a la Stroganoff, but Gracie says she never met the guy, so it's just beef to her.

WHAT A SPOT FOR A YOUNG GUY!

Here's a break many a budding young man about town dreams about! Surrounded by screen lovelies Judy Garland, Ann Rutherford and Lana Turner (reading clockwise) is none other than Mickey Rooney—the Andy Hardy of the family-comedy film, "Love Finds Andy Hardy" which opens tonight at the Torrance theatre.

Hardy Family's New Film Here

An intimate inside view of the life of an average American family is blazoned on the screen in "Love Finds Andy Hardy," fourth in the series of Judge Hardy Family pictures which opens tonight at the Torrance theatre.

The story, a simple relation of domestic entanglements, tells of the young man of the family who not only braves his father's wrath by buying a second-hand car without permission, but also becomes entangled with three girls at the same time.

Lewis Stone again the kindly, discerning Judge is head of a typical family of five. This marks his third appearance in the role of Judge Hardy. Mickey Rooney is given the biggest role he has played so far in the series, providing the maelstrom around which the plot revolves. His rapidly increasing popularity makes him an ideal representative of the typical American boy.

Judy Garland has been added to the "family group." Playing a girl of twelve, she is allowed by her mother, a musical comedy star, to dress up for one night and pretend to be grown-up. During this interval she steals the spotlight at the big dance given by the younger set of a small mid-western city. Judy sings three songs in the picture.

Grand Operas On Bowl Schedule

Two grand operas in costume are scheduled for the closing events of Hollywood Bowl. "Martha," the charming opera by von Flotow, will be heard in English by an all-American cast, Tuesday, Aug. 30, Richard Lert conducting.

"La Boheme," Puccini's delightful and unforgettable masterpiece, will be performed by an all star cast, Pietro Cimini conducting.

Dr. Otto Klemperer returns to the Bowl Thursday night, Sept. 1 with Bronislaw Gimpel as violin soloist.
